

Musical Phenomena Over Time (Musiikin ilmiöt ajassa)

23 January - 17 May 2023

5 credits

Enrolment until 18 January by email to johanna.talasniemi@metropolia.fi

Welcome all interested in digging into musical phenomena over time. During an online implementation in English you will study musical phenomena, such as timbre and sound, rhythm and musical time, structure and perception, performance and listening, and their change in both the past and the present from multiple angles. You will also analyze the trends of musical change in different times and genres.

The aim is that after this course the student is able to find, choose and utilize music versatilely in different professional activities and situations, responding to different needs. The ability to recognize musical phenomena and their historical continuum beyond musical genres, and the ability to connect these phenomena to current topics, enhances the student's professional growth into an active future operator. The student improves their historical thinking, criticism of sources, co-operative skills and knowledge of musical repertoire, as well as their verbal expression and argumentation skills in interactive situations.

The course takes place from 23 January until 17 May 2023 in Metropolia Moodle. The course consists of individual assignments returned individually or on discussion forum, discussion on responses, and self-evaluation. Enrolment until 18 January to the instructor of the course: johanna.talasniemi@metropolia.fi.
